PROFILE

I am a self-motivated Computer Science, second-year university student, currently searching for Software Engineering / Development 12-month placement roles as I am looking for opportunities to work within a driven environment where I will acquire new skills. I have a proactive mindset which enables me to learn and adapt to different situations whilst allowing myself to work efficiently by maintaining both patience and a positive attitude towards work and people. My enthusiasm for work also allows me to become very responsible especially in times where I must work with others as part of the team to organise and execute various tasks.
